South Hadley, MA, Feb. 20, 2020 — WanderJest, a South Hadley-based startup founded earlier this year, is announcing a comedy scavenger hunt across the Pioneer Valley. The contest brings together comedians throughout Western Massachusetts and awards prizes to fans who attend their shows throughout the month of March.

A randomly-selected winner will take home a grand prize of $200. Fans can increase their odds of winning the top prize by attending more shows. WanderJest will also award special prizes for categories such as best photo, highest attendance, and most popular performer. For full details, see wanderjest.com/scavenger-hunt.

"Few valley residents are aware of the amazing comedy performances happening in Western Mass every night of the week," says WanderJest founder Michael Lynch, adding, "I hope that WanderJest's comedy scavenger hunt inspires residents to explore Pioneer Valley's vibrant, expanding comedy scene." Matt Woodland, comedian and longtime staple of the Massachusetts comedy community looks forward to the event, commenting, "With the advent of WanderJest, there's finally a place for comedians, producers, and fans to connect over one singular purpose: sheer, unadulterated levity!"
